WHAT IS A CREDIT UNION?

Credit Unions are membership-based organisations, similar to co-operatives, offering straightforward saving products and fair, manageable loans to members. They were partly set up as an ethical response to pay day loans and doorstep lending which come with high interest rates. They are an alternative to banks and building societies set up by members who have something in common (e.g. they live in the same area or work in a certain profession.) Credit Unions provide a financial community where members benefit, as there is no profit for third-party shareholders.

ABOUT US

Derbyshire Community Bank was formed in 2006 in Erewash, formally known as the Erewash Credit Union, and has since expanded across Derbyshire to serve over 3,000 members. In 2005, we re-branded to reflect our membership across the whole of Derbyshire becoming Derbyshire Community Bank. Membership is open to anyone living or working in Derby/Derbyshire, or North East Staffordshire. We are based in the city centre of Derby at, Cubo, Victoria Street DE1 1EQ.
